FIVE MINUTES with Nadine Hall

DIRECTOR of Nature Within, a range of unscented, natural, organic skin care developed for baby's sensitive skin.

To me, business is...a passion. If you don't love what you do, how can you succeed?

My first job was...a paper girl back in the days when you had a trolley and whistle. I was about eight years old and I was so excited when I got paid. Obviously I spent it on lollies.

My biggest failure was...I don't agree with failure. I believe when you are truly meant to do something, it will happen.

My biggest success was...becoming a parent, this is forever. When I see their smiles and how happy they are, I know I have done something right.

The greatest risk I ever took was...putting every dollar I had left on the line for my business.

The best advice I ever got was...don't let emotion get in the way of business because there will be times you will have to make decisions you don't want to make.

When times are good I...feel free and thankful.

When times are bad I...try to think about how lucky I am. There is always someone else worse off.

I am reading...Hotel Kerobokan by Kathryn Bonella.

I really wish...people would not sweat the small stuff. Life is too short.

I could not live without...my children.

The thing not many people know about me is...I secretly would love to be a public speaker but at the same time am absolutely terrified of it.
